Introduction to the Joomla! Bug Squad

edit

The Joomla! Bug Squad (JBS) is a team within the Production Working Groups. Their job is to identify and fix bugs in Joomla. This includes the following:

- Scan the Joomla! Bug Reporting Forum and Joomla! 2.5 Bug Reporting Forum for reported issues and help community members with solving these issues.
- Maintaining the [\[Version 2.5x only Bug Tracker\]](#) and [\[Joomla 3.x Issue Tracker\]](#).
- Fix reported bugs and resolve reported issues according to the Bug Tracking Process.

The Bug Squad is also supporting with testing and quality assurance when a new major or minor version is developed. Generally speaking the bug-squad is in the lead when a version switches from beta-stage to the stable-stage within the development cycle of Joomla!

Bug Squad Background

edit

The Bug Squad was created in December 2007. As of May 2010, JBS has been organised into the following teams:

- Tracker Team - monitors the forums and trackers
- Coding Team - creates patches for Confirmed Issues
- Testing Team - tests Pending issues
- Automated Testing Team - creates automated system and unit tests for tracker issues
- Migration and Upgrade Team - responsible for supporting migration and upgrading from the prior version to the current version.

These teams are not rigid, and JBS members can participate in whatever

What is the Joomla User Experience?

The mission of the Joomla User Experience Team (JUX Team) is to create a great overall user experience for Joomla site administrators, thereby giving site users the same. We approach UX with a process, including defining the interaction design, information architecture, usability requirements, and the visual design through user research. We are also focused on mobile content and accessibility.

The JUX Team will get started immediately with the current version of Joomla as well as improving the user experience of the Joomla.org family of websites.

About the Translations Working Group

edit

"...providing support for the international community is a core value of Joomla!..."

The purpose of the Translation Team within the Production Working Groups is to be a liaison between the Joomla! Translation Teams, the International Community and the other Joomla! Teams on user and technical matters relating to the translation of the Joomla! application.

The Translation Working Group carries out its work according to the Joomla! Translation and Localization Policy.

The Translation Working Group is also called the Joomla! Translation Coordination Team. It is composed of members of the Joomla! Translation Teams. See a list of current members here.

We have more than 50 local language coordinators representing their local teams. See a list of current members here. These Teams are also listed on a per language basis: 1.5 current languages here

For 2.5 see: 2.5 current languages here

For 3.x see: 3.x current languages here

The resources provided by these teams are available on a common repository on joomlancode: 1.5 language packs
